

Fund your education with an income share agreement!

The San Diego Workforce Partnership and UC San Diego Extension are partnering to offer a new way to advance your career. The Workforce ISA Fund offers access to high quality certification programs in fast-growing technology fields with career readiness, mentoring and job placement support.

What is an ISA?

An Income Share Agreement (ISA) offers access to education without having to worry about student loans, interest rates and decades of repayments. The fund fronts the cost of a student's education, which the student pays back in payments based on a percentage of income over a set period of time.

It's not a loan. It costs you nothing up front. And if the program leads to high paying jobs, you will pay it forward to the next cohort with a small percentage of your income.

Programs

Applications are now open for the below two programs. The deadline to apply is Saturday, February 15th.

Front-End Development      Business Intelligence

UC San Diego
EXTENSION

Why use this ISA?

No income, no repayment

Since payments are based on income, no payment is owed if you do not get a job after graduation that pays you in excess of $40,000. Payments stop if your income falls below a living wage or you experience a period of unemployment.

Student support

ISAs are about more than funding your education, offering a variety of services to support your success:

- A mentor currently employed in the field
- A career consultant who will walk with you every step of the way
- Exclusive networking events sponsored by San Diego's technology community
- Career readiness training, resume assistance and interview preparation
- Internship and job placement services
- A network of support for technology, transportation, child care and other services to empower you to be successful inside the classroom and on the job

Learn more or apply at workforce.org/ISA.